

Rating Action: Moody's downgrades ratings on notes with Spain's guarantee in 7 Spanish ABS

Global Credit Research - 15 Mar 2011

Paris, March 15, 2011 -- Moody's Investors Service has today downgraded to Aa2 (sf) from Aa1 (sf) the ratings of the notes in six asset-backed securities (ABS) transactions backed by loans to small and medium enterprises (SMEs) and the ratings of two notes in an ABS transaction backed by payment rights in relation with Spanish electricity tariff deficits.

Today's downgrades follow Moody's downgrade of Spain's sovereign rating to Aa2 from Aa1 on 10 March 2011. Spain guarantees the payments on the affected ABS notes.

Today's downgrades conclude the review for possible downgrade of the affected notes. The detailed list of the affected notes is included below.

RATINGS RATIONALE

Moody's rates the guaranteed notes in the SME ABS transactions at the higher of (i) the intrinsic credit risk of the notes (i.e., their credit risk without the guarantee); and (ii) the rating of Spain.

All the affected notes have an intrinsic credit risk of Aa2 or lower and Moody's has therefore downgraded their ratings to Aa2 (sf). The downgrade of Spain's rating does not affect the ratings of other Spanish-sovereign guaranteed ABS notes whose intrinsic credit risk Moody's assesses at Aaa or Aa1.

Although Moody's methodology is a joint default analysis (JDA), the rating agency will not rate the senior notes higher than Spain's rating, if the intrinsic credit risk of the notes is not higher than Spain's rating. Moody's draws this conclusion because its JDA considers not only the intrinsic credit risk of the senior notes and Spain's credit risk, but also the high correlation between Spain's credit risk and that of the SMEs.

Spain guarantees interest and principal due under the notes issued by Fondo de Titulización del déficit del sistema eléctrico, FTA. Given the specific nature of this transaction, which presents various differences compared with other electricity tariff securitisations, the ratings of the notes are fully linked to the rating of Spain.

Moody's Investors Service did not receive or take into account a third party due diligence report on the underlying assets or financial instruments in this transaction.
