RATINGS RATIONALE

The rating action is prompted by the correction of an input error in the case of the Class E and Z Notes.

Correction of a model input error

The rating action takes into account the correction of an input error in the cash flow model for BBVA CONSUMER AUTO 2018-1 FONDO DE TITULIZACION. In the previous rating action, the outstanding balance of loans classified as "doubtful", which had already been provisioned, was incorrectly included in the modelled pool balance. This resulted in incorrectly modelling some overcollateralization while there was none. The correction of this error had a negative impact on the Class E and Class Z Notes which did not benefit from deleveraging in the period.

The Class E Notes are collateralized, pay sequentially to the Class D Notes amortization and rank junior to reserve fund replenishment in the priority of payments. The Class Z Notes are not collateralized and have been repaid from excess spread and reserve fund releases down to the current EUR 1 million balance. We do not expect any further amortization until a 10% pool factor is reached at which point the class may amortise from excess spread available at the bottom of priority of payments. The reserve fund of EUR 1 million will be reduced to zero and will be part of available funds when the Class C Notes are fully repaid.

The principal methodology used in these ratings was "Moody's Global Approach to Rating Auto Loan- and Lease-Backed ABS" published in November 2023 and available at <https://ratings.moodys.com/rmc-documents/411778>. Alternatively, please see the Rating Methodologies page on <https://ratings.moodys.com> for a copy of this methodology.

Factors that would lead to an upgrade or downgrade of the ratings:

Factors or circumstances that could lead to an upgrade of the ratings include: (1) performance of the underlying collateral that is better than Moody's expected, (2) an increase in available credit enhancement, (3) improvements in the credit quality of the transaction counterparties, and (4) a decrease in sovereign risk.

Factors or circumstances that could lead to a downgrade of the ratings include: (1) an increase in sovereign risk, (2) performance of the underlying collateral that is worse than Moody's expected, (3) deterioration in the Notes' available credit enhancement, and (4) deterioration in the credit quality of the transaction counterparties.

REGULATORY DISCLOSURES

For further specification of Moody's key rating assumptions and sensitivity analysis, see the sections Methodology Assumptions and Sensitivity to Assumptions in the disclosure form. Moody's Rating Symbols and Definitions can be found on <https://ratings.moodys.com/rating-definitions>.

The analysis relies on an assessment of collateral characteristics to determine the collateral loss distribution, that is, the function that correlates to an assumption about the likelihood of occurrence to each level of possible losses in the collateral. As a second step, Moody's evaluates each possible collateral loss scenario using a model that replicates the relevant structural features to derive payments and therefore the ultimate potential losses for each rated instrument. The loss a rated instrument incurs in each collateral loss scenario, weighted by assumptions about the likelihood of events in that scenario occurring, results in the expected loss of the rated instrument.
