VIEW ADDITIONAL RATING DETAILSTRANSACTION SUMMARY

The transaction is a securitisation of Spanish residential mortgages serviced by CaixaBank, S.A. (A-/Stable/F2).

KEY RATING DRIVERS

European RMBS Rating Criteria Updated: The rating actions reflect Fitch's updated European RMBS Rating Criteria. This adopted a non-indexed current loan-to-value (LTV) approach to derive the base foreclosure frequency (FF) on the portfolio, instead of the original LTV approach applied before. Another relevant change is the updated borrower-level recovery rate cap of 85%, lower than the 100% before. The portfolio credit analysis is driven by the minimum loss vector (e.g. 5% at the 'AAA' rating case). For more information see "Fitch Ratings Updates European RMBS Rating Criteria; Sets FF and HPD Assumptions" dated 30 October 2024.

Ratings Capped by Counterparty Risks: The class C notes' rating is capped and linked at the transaction account bank (TAB) provider's rating (Barclays Bank plc, A+/Stable) as the cash reserves held at this entity represent the main source of structural credit enhancement (CE) for the notes and the sudden loss of these funds would imply a model-implied downgrade of 10 or more notches in accordance with Fitch's criteria.

Sufficient CE: Fitch deems the notes to be sufficiently protected by CE able to compensate the credit and cash flow stresses associated with the ratings. Fitch expects CE to continue increasing due to the mandatory sequential amortisation of the notes.

Stable Asset Performance Outlook: The rating actions reflect the transaction's broadly stable asset performance, in line with our neutral outlook for eurozone RMBS. The transaction has a low share of loans in arrears over 90 days (at 0.8% of outstanding pool balance as of the latest reporting dates), is protected by substantial seasoning of the portfolio above 19 years, and has low current LTV ratios below 25%. Cumulative defaults are also contained at around 4% relative to the initial pool balance.

The portfolio is highly concentrated in the region of Valencia where around 70% of the properties are located. To address regional concentration risk, Fitch applied higher rating multiples to the base FF assumption to the portion of the portfolio that exceeds 2.5x the population within this region relative to the national total, in line with its European RMBS Rating Criteria.

RATING SENSITIVITIESFactors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Negative Rating Action/Downgrade

- For the class A notes, a downgrade of Spain's Long-Term Issuer Default Rating (IDR) that could decrease the maximum achievable rating for Spanish structured finance transactions. This is because these notes are rated at the maximum achievable rating, six notches above the sovereign IDR.

- CE ratios unable to fully compensate the credit losses and cash flow stresses associated with the current ratings, all else being equal, would also result in downgrades. For instance, an increase in defaults and a decrease in recoveries each by 15% would result in a two-notch downgrade of the class B notes.

- For the class C notes, a downgrade of the TAB's long-term rating could trigger a corresponding downgrade of the notes. This is because their rating is capped at the TAB's rating due to excessive counterparty risk.

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Positive Rating Action/Upgrade

- The class A notes are rated at the highest level on Fitch's scale and cannot be upgraded.

- For the class B notes, stable to improved asset performance driven by stable delinquencies and defaults would lead to increasing CE and potentially upgrades. For instance, a combination of decreased defaults and increased recoveries by 15% each could trigger a one-notch upgrade.

- For the class C notes, an upgrade of the TAB's long-term rating could trigger a corresponding upgrade. This is because their rating is capped at the TAB's rating due to excessive counterparty risk.

DATA ADEQUACY

Valencia Hipotecario 3, FTA

Fitch has checked the consistency and plausibility of the information it has received about the performance of the asset pool and the transaction. Fitch has not reviewed the results of any third party assessment of the asset portfolio information or conducted a review of origination files as part of its ongoing monitoring.

Fitch did not undertake a review of the information provided about the underlying asset pool ahead of the transaction's initial closing. The subsequent performance of the transaction over the years is consistent with the agency's expectations given the operating environment and Fitch is therefore satisfied that the asset pool information relied upon for its initial rating analysis was adequately reliable.

Overall, and together with any assumptions referred to above, Fitch's assessment of the information relied upon for the agency's rating analysis according to its applicable rating methodologies indicates that it is adequately reliable.

PUBLIC RATINGS WITH CREDIT LINKAGE TO OTHER RATINGS

The class C notes are capped at the TAB provider's rating due to excessive counterparty exposure.

ESG CONSIDERATIONS

The highest level of ESG credit relevance is a score of '3', unless otherwise disclosed in this section. A score of '3' means ESG issues are credit-neutral or have only a minimal credit impact on the entity, either due to their nature or the way in which they are being managed by the entity. Fitch's ESG Relevance Scores are not inputs in the rating process; they are an observation on the relevance and materiality of ESG factors in the rating decision. Fitch may have provided another permissible or ancillary service to the rated entity or its related third parties. Details of permissible or ancillary service(s) for which the lead analyst is based in an ESMA- or FCA-registered Fitch Ratings company (or branch of such a company) can be found on the entity summary page for this issuer on the Fitch Ratings website.

In issuing and maintaining its ratings and in making other reports (including forecast information), Fitch relies on factual information it receives from issuers and underwriters and from other sources Fitch believes to be credible. Fitch conducts a reasonable investigation of the factual information relied upon by it in accordance with its ratings methodology, and obtains reasonable verification of that information from independent sources, to the extent such sources are available for a given security or in a given jurisdiction. The manner of Fitch's factual investigation and the scope of the third-party verification it obtains will vary depending on the nature of the rated security and its issuer, the requirements and practices in the jurisdiction in which the rated security is offered and sold and/or the issuer is located, the availability and nature of relevant public information, access to the management of the issuer and its advisers, the availability of pre-existing third-party verifications such as audit reports, agreed-upon procedures letters, appraisals, actuarial reports, engineering reports, legal opinions and other reports provided by third parties, the availability of independent and competent third-party verification sources with respect to the particular security or in the particular jurisdiction of the issuer, and a variety of other factors. Users of Fitch's ratings and reports should understand that neither an enhanced factual investigation nor any third-party verification can ensure that all of the information Fitch relies on in connection with a rating or a report will be accurate and complete. Ultimately, the issuer and its advisers are responsible for the accuracy of the information they provide to Fitch and to the market in offering documents and other reports. In issuing its ratings and its reports, Fitch must rely on the work of experts, including independent auditors with respect to financial statements and attorneys with respect to legal and tax matters. Further, ratings and forecasts of financial and other information are inherently forward-looking and embody assumptions and predictions about future events that by their nature cannot be verified as facts. As a result, despite any verification of current facts, ratings and forecasts can be affected by future events or conditions that were not anticipated at the time a rating or forecast was issued or affirmed. Fitch Ratings makes routine, commonly-accepted adjustments to reported financial data in accordance with the relevant criteria and/or industry standards to provide financial metric consistency for entities in the same sector or asset class.

The complete span of best- and worst-case scenario credit ratings for all rating categories ranges from 'AAA' to 'D'. Fitch also provides information on best-case rating upgrade scenarios and worst-case rating downgrade scenarios (defined as the 99th percentile of rating transitions, measured in each direction) for international credit ratings, based on historical performance. A simple average across asset classes presents best-case upgrades of 4 notches and worst-case downgrades of 8 notches at the 99th percentile. A Fitch rating is an opinion as to the creditworthiness of a security. This opinion and reports made by Fitch are based on established criteria and methodologies that Fitch is continuously evaluating and updating. Therefore, ratings and reports are the collective work product of Fitch and no individual, or group of individuals, is solely responsible for a rating or a report. The rating does not address the risk of loss due to risks other than credit risk, unless such risk is specifically mentioned. Fitch is not engaged in the offer or sale of any security. All Fitch reports have shared authorship. Individuals identified in a Fitch report were involved in, but are not solely responsible for, the opinions stated therein. The individuals are named for contact purposes only. A report providing a Fitch rating is neither a prospectus nor a substitute for the information assembled, verified and presented to investors by the issuer and its agents in connection with the sale of the securities. Ratings may be changed or withdrawn at any time for any reason in the sole discretion of Fitch. Fitch does not provide investment advice of any sort. Ratings are not a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold any security. Ratings do not comment on the adequacy of market price, the suitability of any security for a particular investor, or the tax-exempt nature or taxability of payments made in respect to any security. Fitch receives fees from issuers, insurers, guarantors, other obligors, and underwriters for rating securities. Such fees generally vary from US$1,000 to US$750,000 (or the applicable currency equivalent) per issue. In certain cases, Fitch will rate all or a number of issues issued by a particular issuer, or insured or guaranteed by a particular insurer or guarantor, for a single annual fee. Such fees are expected to vary from US$10,000 to US$1,500,000 (or the applicable currency equivalent).
