KEY RATING DRIVERS

Sovereign-Related Cap Lifted

Following Fitch's upgrade of Spain's Long-Term Local-Currency Issuer Default Rating (IDR) to 'A-' on 19 January 2018, and in line with Fitch's Structured Finance and Covered Bonds Country Risk Rating Criteria, Spanish structured finance transactions are no longer capped at 'AA+sf', but can be rated up to 'AAAsf', i.e. six notches above the sovereign's rating. This is reflected in the upgrade of the transactions' senior notes to 'AAAsf' from 'AA+sf'.

European RMBS Rating Criteria

The application of the European RMBS Rating Criteria has generally led to smaller expected losses, contributing to the upgrades.

Stable Asset Performance

All three transactions are quite seasoned. As such, the weighted average current loan-to-value (LTV) ratios have dropped below 40%, compared with the weighted average original LTV of around 70%.

The transactions continue to show sound asset performance trends with three-month plus arrears (excluding defaults) ranging between 0.6% and 1.4% of the portfolio outstanding balance, and cumulative gross defaults (defined as loans in arrears for more than 18 months) ranging between 0.8% and 2.1% of the initial portfolio balance at the time of the review.

Increasing Credit Enhancement (CE)

All three transactions include pro-rata amortisation mechanisms so long as performance and tranche thickness (tranche size relative to total outstanding) triggers are fulfilled. As the transactions amortise, we expect CE to increase for all rated notes due to the availability of a floored cash reserve. CE is expected to increase only slightly for Rural Hipotecario VI's senior tranches as the pro-rata amortisation of all classes of notes continues, but CE ratios for Rural Hipotecario VIII's senior notes should increase more as the transaction is currently paying pro-rata for both the senior class A2a and A2b notes. The other notes are paid fully sequentially. Rural Hipotecario VII's senior notes should also see only a slight increase in CE as the pro-rata currently applies to senior and mezzanine notes.

CE for the junior notes consists solely of the amounts from the floored cash reserve. As this exposure is present for more than 12 months, in line with Fitch's counterparty criteria, the junior notes' ratings are not viewed as sufficiently isolated to achieve ratings higher than the account bank's (Citibank Europe Plc) 'A' rating.

Interest Deferrability

Interest deferrals for mezzanine and junior notes are permitted under the terms of the transaction documents. In line with its Global Structured Finance Rating Criteria, Fitch will not assign ratings in the 'AAsf'-category or higher to notes that it expects would defer interest under stress scenarios associated with those rating categories.

RATING SENSITIVITIES

A worsening of the Spanish macroeconomic environment, especially employment conditions or an abrupt shift of interest rates could jeopardise the underlying borrowers' affordability. This could have negative rating implications, especially for junior tranches that are less protected by structural CE.

The ratings of the senior notes are sensitive to changes in Spain's Long-Term Foreign-Currency IDR, which affects the highest achievable rating for Spanish structured finance notes. Therefore, a downgrade of the sovereign would lead to a review of the senior notes' ratings.

The junior notes' ratings are sensitive to changes in the account bank's rating. Therefore, a change in the account bank's rating could lead to a review of the junior notes' ratings.

DATA ADEQUACY

Fitch has checked the consistency and plausibility of the information it has received about the performance of the asset pools and the transactions. There were no findings that affected the rating analysis. Fitch has not reviewed the results of any third party assessment of the asset portfolio information or conducted a review of origination files as part of its ongoing monitoring.

Fitch did not undertake a review of the information provided about the underlying asset pools ahead of the transactions' initial closing. The subsequent performance of the transactions over the years is consistent with the agency's expectations given the operating environment and Fitch is therefore satisfied that the asset pool information relied upon for its initial rating analysis was adequately reliable.

Overall, Fitch's assessment of the information relied upon for the agency's rating analysis according to its applicable rating methodologies indicates that it is adequately reliable.
